

Dear Friend,

One of our missions at Round the Bend Farm (RTB) is to promote food and farming along the SouthCoast by supporting social entrepreneurs. We currently have three social entrepreneurs working at RTB – who are not paid by the Marion Institute – and instead are supported by our communities through the sale of their goods, and are committed to local food and good health.

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce you to one of these amazing individuals who is making such important change in our world. Lucy Tabit is RTB's bee-lady and guru. She has four hives on the farm and produces some of the finest honey in the region (we may be a tad biased). Her honey, known around town, as Hana's Honey will be available at this week's Open Market Day on Saturday, June 28th, from noon-6pm. Check out a great article about bees in last Sunday's SouthCoast Today, featuring RTB and Lucy's hives here. Farmers Geoff and Ashley will also be on-hand selling RTB's non-GMO pork and seasonal produce.

With gratitude,

Elizabeth Wiley
